

Atlantic 40 ketch for sale in Turkey

The Atlantic 40 for sale in Turkey is a ketch-rigged sailboat that was designed by William Gardner, a renowned naval architect, in the mid-20th century. It is a classic design that is known for its seaworthiness, stability, and beauty. The boat is perfect for transatlantic voyages.

The ketch rig of the Atlantic 40 features a mainmast and a shorter mizzenmast located forward of the cockpit. This rig provides excellent balance and versatility, allowing the boat to sail comfortably in a wide range of wind conditions. The sails are new.

The Atlantic 40 has a classic design that emphasizes comfort and practicality. The cockpit is spacious and well-protected, with high coamings that provide excellent backrests. The interior is typically finished in teak and features a spacious salon, a galley, a navigation station, and one or two private cabins. The boat has a relatively high freeboard and deep hull, which provides good headroom and plenty of storage space. It is mechanically serviced with new batteries. Powered by a Mercedes 80hp diesel engine.

Overall, the Atlantic 40 is a timeless classic that combines traditional elegance with modern performance. It is a popular choice for offshore cruising and has a reputation for being a comfortable and reliable long-distance cruiser.

- Length 12 m
- Width 3,50
- Depth 1,6
- Engine Mercedes, 63 hp.
- Hours of use 1,900 hours
- Auxiliary machine
- G.P.S.
- Plotter
- Tender
- VHF
- Anemometer
- Axial
- Auto pilot
- Water tank
- Electr. anchor worker
- Water heater
- Crew cabin
- Kitchen
- Bathroom
- Catwalk
- Dry socket
- Compass
- Radio operator
- Bathroom ladder
- Alarm
- Tent
- Water trap
- Oven
- Refrigerator

Photos

