

Colvic Countess 33 for sale in Greece

Description

The Colvic Countess 33 (1992) is a solid British-built sailing yacht known for her seaworthiness and spacious interior. Measuring 10.08 meters in length with a beam of 3.6 meters, she offers a comfortable layout for extended cruising.

Powered by a reliable Volvo Penta D1-30 engine with only 300 hours, she ensures dependable performance under power.

Her navigation suite includes a Raymarine 4000+ autopilot, Raymarine radar, chartplotter, Navtex, and depth sounder, making her well-equipped for safe offshore passages.

Onboard comfort and autonomy are key features of this yacht. She comes with a diesel heater, electric toilet, and a fridge with seawater cooling and freezer capability.

The second head was remade for the workshop, and a space for a 120 L water tank.

Energy needs are covered by two 180W solar panels with a Victron controller and a 3000W inverter, allowing for extended time off-grid.

A 2.8-meter dinghy with a Honda 2.5hp outboard is included.

This Countess 33 is a well-rounded cruiser, ideal for liveaboard sailors or long coastal passages.
