

Contest 36 for sale

Description

The Contest 36 (1976) is a classic Dutch-built sailing yacht designed by Dick Zaal and renowned for its strength, seaworthiness, and timeless craftsmanship. This fiberglass cruiser combines solid construction with comfortable cruising performance.

Powered by a 2018 Perkins 4108 diesel engine (36 hp), it offers dependable propulsion when needed.

The yacht's well-balanced sail plan, including a fully battened mainsail, genoa (serviced 2023), and spinnaker, ensures capable sailing in a wide range of conditions, while the hydraulic autopilot, Raymarine Tacktick instruments, and comprehensive navigation suite make handling straightforward and enjoyable.

Below deck, the Contest 36 provides a warm and inviting interior with two cabins and a Jabsco manual head, offering practical accommodation for up to five people.

The saloon features twin sofas, a large dining table, and a dedicated navigation station, creating a cozy yet functional living space. The galley includes a gimbal stove, sink, fridge, and ample storage for extended cruising.

Additional comforts include Webasto fuel heating, Rinnai hot water system, shore power inlet, and renewable energy support via two 150W solar panels and a wind generator.

On deck, equipment such as ENKES and Barton manual winches, electric windlass, and a swimming ladder ensure safe and convenient handling.

This Contest 36 is a proven bluewater cruiser, ready to set sail for new adventures.
